Anita is an Organizing Specialist with Get Organized! L.L.C., a professional organizing service located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Get Organized! provides services to those in the greater Cedar Rapids-Iowa City area and also serves those all over the world through its website. Anita has dedicated herself to helping people and businesses get organized, be more productive and more successful. Anita joined Get Organized! in January 2006 after gaining experience with the Liquidation Office of the FDIC in Houston, Texas and as a legal assistant in the Real Estate and Corporate practice divisions of a Houston law firm. Both of these positions relied on successful organizing of details. She received a BBA in Finance from University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

Since joining Get Organized, Anita has continued to expand her skills and knowledge through membership in the National Association of Professional Organizers (NAPO), the National Study Group on Chronic Disorganization (NSGCD), and the Attention Deficit Disorder Association (ADDA). She attended the 2007 NAPO conference in Minneapolis, MN and the 2007 ADDA conference in Chicago, Illinois. She recently earned her Certificate in Study in Chronic Disorganization from the NSGCD.

Anita's detailed organization provides worlds of help to clients whether at home or in the office. She has developed strong working relationships with several elderly and chronically disorganized clients over the years.

In addition to the hands-on organizing and consultations Anita has teamed up with her associate, Becky Esker, in 2008 to form a ClutterLess Success Group in the Cedar Rapids, Iowa area. Through prompted discussions, this success group helps people examine the emotional ties they have with their clutter, in a confidential, supportive atmosphere.

Anita's volunteer experience has been a great launching pad for the organizing profession. She spent several years as the volunteer coordinator at her children's school and is currently actively involved in various committees through her church.

Anita enjoys the challenge of helping clients set up systems; weed through the old, let go of items no longer needed and put order in place. It's all about changing the clients' surroundings so they can enjoy their life!
